

“I’ve always thought that cab drivers have the most interesting stories of people who get into your cabbies should tell their stories. Now, you have done so. You’ve reached the other side of the moon. My dad has been to Nepal, and he’d love your book. I’m so glad that I’ve met you,” smiled Sasah Degraeve, buying my memoir.